

Yakumo Orchestra (NL)

Yakumo consists of Chris Mulder and Atser Damsma. They take you to Tropical Planet somewhere in our galaxy with their percussive, hypnotizing tracks. Yakumo build and records their songs live, layer for layer, with raw analogue synthesizer sounds and dance floor drum loops. Subtly changing mesmerizing melodies will slowly but surely take you on a trip into abandoned tropical landscapes.

Yakumo Orchestra is a unique collaboration between tropical space techno act Yakumo, female vocalist Hiltje Andringa and a number of young, classically trained musicians. The music is composed by the dance duo and arranged for the orchestra. The result is a true crossover between different musical styles. Classical instruments, dance music and African influences can be heard in this production. Unique to this project is that different styles are combined, but also the fact there is room for improvisation.
